Student Senate 101

One of the worst fears of a college student is forgetting to drop that one class that you never attended by drop date. Well, we hope we don't shake anybody up by saying that the last day to drop a class is today. Why is that important? Well, it seems that just about every full-time student here is enrolled in something and they don't even know it. If you're taking at least twelve credits or less and have paid your student activities fees, you're a part of the Student Senate.

Now don't run in terror to the Registrar and ask for his approval to drop this membership. And we feel sure that if "Student Senate 101" was a genuine course title, almost everyone would be forced to withdraw for lack of participation.

The Flyer had its own apathy problems last year. Fortunately we're getting a little more campus support. But the poor Senate seems to be the most misunderstood organization around. Just try to answer a few of these questions concerning your Senate.

Name your Senate President or any of the Vice-Presidents. (For those who think that is too easy, then identify the position titles for each VP.) Where is the Senate office located? How often to they meet? What activity did it most recently sponsor? What is its primary purpose? (That requires more than a short answer!)

Our hunch is that most of you didn't score too well. But we'll save you a boring lecture and get to the main points. The Student Senate "Is your right as a student to self-governance." It is "the student policy-making organization;" regulating "student activities, organizations and campus political functions." Each elected officer is responsible for various groups and committees in an effort to fulfill these requirements.

For example, just the Vice President of Senate Affairs alone is responsible for organizing the student Judicial System and Senate Programs like Homecoming and the Christmas Social in addition to other items. Committees and programs covered by the other officers include Academic Policy, Admissions and Readmissions, Student Affairs, Alcohol Education and Space Utilization, just to name a few.

At the last Senate meeting, topics discussed included lottery proposals, the Nanticoke home possibility and the thought of electing a Homecoming King. Only a handful of students attended, and most of them were already heavily involved in their respective organizations. There didn't appear to be any independently concerned students in attendance.

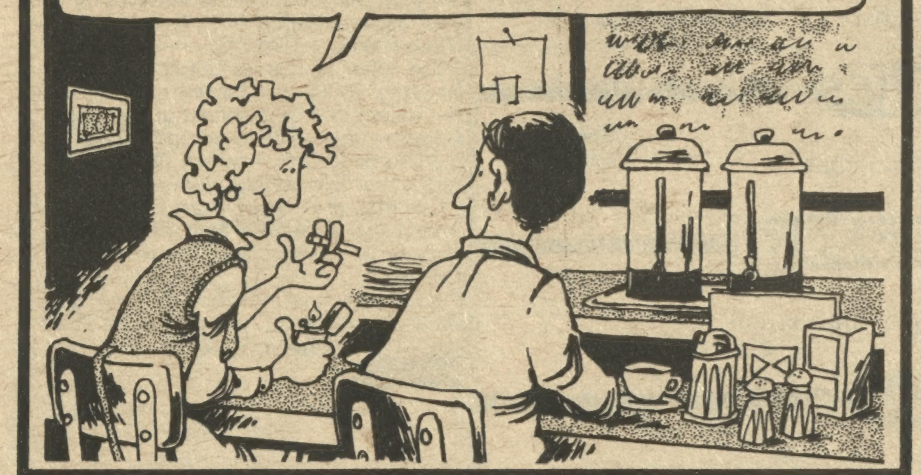

So what does all of this mean? It means that your student organization is running with a minimum of student input and therefore must make decisions without obtaining the opinions of everyone.

It's frustrating to run a student organization by yourself. (The Flyer staff should know, we did it for the better part of two semesters last year.) There is plenty of work to go around and no one seems interested in helping out, or even offering suggestions. However, when that work doesn't get done to everyone's satisfaction, look out. Most students are quick to gripe, but slow to come to the organization's aid.

Is the student body at large exclusively to blame? For the most part yes. But some also feel that the Senate itself has not opened itself up enough to students. One remark I recently heard was "Oh? We have a Student Senate? Really?"

Everyone has a chance to redeem themselves in November. The next scheduled Senate meeting is November 13 in Caruthers room 122 at 3:45 p.m. We know the Senate has the posters ready to announce this event. You too now have been warned. We expect everyone to be there. Now, class dismissed.

DO YOU MIND IF I BURN A HOLE IN YOUR SHIRT, SPILL ASHES IN YOUR COFFEE, COUGH ON YOUR FOOD, SMELL UP YOUR HAIR AND CLOTHES, AND DOUBLE YOUR CHANCE OF GETTING CANCER?

Letters to the Editor

Book Rack Replies

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to the article printed in October 17th's issue of the Flyer about the conflict between the Book Rack and Campus Books. I feel information printed in the article strongly misrepresents the policies and views of the Book Rack. I am a junior at SSC and have worked in the Book Rack for two years. What was stated in the article really upset me. We work hard trying to help the students out and do our best to have up to date materials in stock for their classes, and at the prices possible.

First of all, the article stated that "the campus book store had switched to a 50% buy back policy on used texts only after Campus Books, Inc., offered it to SSC students." That is totally wrong. The Book Rack has always had a 50% buy back policy on used books that are used again the next semester. The books that are not being used are bought back at the used book companies wholesale price. The store has no control whatsoever over the prices during buy back. My Book Rack is not the only store that has adopted this policy. If you were to check around, almost all college book stores handle their buy backs in the same manner. Campus Books is giving everyone the impression that every book will be redeemed at 50% of the retail price. The book companies are the people who develop the wholesale price guidelines for buying back books, not the stores.

Secondly, Campus Books wants the lists of books required for each class. In some instances they have gotten a hold of the lists. But, the fact is the books they are purchasing in some of the cases are the wrong editions. They serve no help to the student who thinks they are saving money by buying old editions. If any they are hurting themselves. Much of the information like that in the Biology and Nursing books change every couple of years, so old editions are useless for the class, except for serving as a possible reference, but that is all.

Another point I would like to make about old texts. We do get rid of old editions that we feel will be of no help to the student at all, not even as a reference. Campus Books state they sell all outdated books at $1.99. If some students may recall, last year the Book Rack placed a big dumpster filled with past editions at the front registers, to be given away. Students were encouraged to sort through them, and pick out books that they may use. Almost every book was given away.

I do not feel we are ripping the students off in any way. If at all I feel we are helping them. We sell the books at the publishers prices, whereas I have noticed that our competition has been somewhat inconsistent with prices on new books, many of which were higher than list price, for example the Hole, Human Anatomy and Physiology text sold for $33 at the Book Rack, and $37.75 at Campus Book4. This is only one example.

There is nothing wrong with a little competition, but when it comes down to trying to slander the opponents name by telling untrue facts and figures to up their business, something should be done. I am only trying to correct the many untruths stated in that article, and set the record straight. I hope from now on the reporter will state the true facts and not try to make her own judgements without proper knowledge of the situation at hand.

Did you know the primary purpose of the Campus Books store is to service Wor-Wic Tech. Are they living up to those expectations or are they really concentrating on SSC? If so aren't their intentions somewhat misleading? My recommendations is that the reporter should question the administration and students of Wor-Wic Tech some to get their viewpoint.

It Yanked His Cord

Dear Editor:

You're begging for letters? Here's one: An article by Ted Palik in the October 3rd issue of the Flyer really yanked my cord! While I'm not familiar with the apparently checkered history of President Bellavance and his erstwhile attempt at a name-change for SSC. I am painfully aware of the "small-school" attitude of the College, to wit: The Library and the "College Center" (perhaps a misnomer) close EARLY on weekends when they should be open later if anything! Also, a "University" newspaper should be at the very least a weekly...if not twice weekly, and it should not be an "adzine!" (Vol XII, No. 2 is one-third paid and house ads! One Third!) How about a real copy center for student use? I'd like to see President Bellavance use the Blackwell Mickey-Mouse machines for an alumni mailing! Maybe it's a pipedream, but perhaps the conversion of several computers in the computer center to student-use word-processors with printers and file space. There's more, but then academia always wants more.

If Bellavance wants more money from private sources maybe he should look into doing something for the student good other than trying to teach his old dog new tricks.

Nursing & Pre-Nursing Majors

To all Nursing and Pre-Nursing Majors: Program Planning begins Monday, November 5, for all Nursing and Pre-Nursing majors. Faculty advisors are requesting that you not phone the School of Nursing for appointments. All advisors will post a schedule of appointments on their office doors in the Hall Educational Center.

Lectures

On Thursday November 1 at 7:30 p.m. at Salisbury State College Maggs gymnasium, Michael Green will be speaking on "An Athlete Battle With Drugs." Currently, Green is the drug/alcohol education specialist at West Chester University. Previously, Green had been captain of the West Chester University's 1974 football team, all-American in football, a pro football candidate with the Philadelphia Eagles and Philadelphia Bells, and for six years, defensive line coach at West Chester University. Green states that his professional career in sports was ruined by his drug use. For seven years now, Green has been recovering from his drug use.

Green is being sponsored by the departments of health education and physical education at Salisbury State College. The lecture is free and is open to the public.

Salisbury State College's School of Science in conjunction with the College Center and the Faculty Cultural Events Committee will present a lecture by Dr. Abel Wolman on "THE WORLD OF WATER". Dr. Wolman's presentation will take place on Wednesday, November 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall Auditorium. Dr. Wolman has spent some three-quarters of a century as a regulatory official, educator and consultant in a spectrum of environmental issues. His activities over problems in water resources development, waste waters, pollution, management and finance. His global activities encompass advisory and investigative services for the World Health Organization, the World Bank, United Nations, UNESCO and 40 to 50 countries. Dr. Wolman's lecture is free and open to the public. No tickets are required.

Events

There will be an "Election Night Party" at 420 Somerset in Salisbury, one block north of College Avenue off Camden, on Tuesday, November 6, 1984 starting at 6 p.m. The party is sponsored by the Political Science Club. Food will be provided but the club stresses to bring your own booze.

The College Center in conjunction with the Faculty Cultural Events Committee and the Department of Communication Arts will present the world-acclaimed Yuri Belov in "Laughing Gas With Love" on Thursday, November 1 at 8 p.m. in Caruthers Hall Auditorium. An entertaining event packed with humor and intrigue, "Laughing Gas With Love" is a picturesque trip through the history of clowning as presented by Belov in the classic tradition of pantomime and comedy acting.

Tickets are free to SSC students, faculty and staff (public tickets $3.00) and may be obtained at the College Center, Information Desk and the door the evening of the event. In addition, Mr. Belov will conduct a workshop on Friday, November 2 from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. The workshop is open to the public and interested persons should contact Mr. Andy Hepburn, Communication Arts at 543-6229.

Public Speaking Course

A course, "Public Speaking for Any Occasion" will be offered again by Salisbury State College on Mondays from 7:30-9:30 p.m., from October 29 - November 19, in Caruthers Hall, Room 102, it was announced today.

Surveys of adults in this country show that the fear of giving speeches is rated higher than any other single fear. This course is designed to help alleviate those fears through knowledge and practice. Anyone who has the desire to improve his or her speaking skills can benefit from this course: businessmen, professionals, housewives, etc.

The course consists of lecture and class participation. Some of the topics covered will be: techniques for controlling nervousness, developing confidence and authority as a speaker, and tips for improving interpersonal, small group and public speaking communication.

The class will be taught by Judy Handley, who has taught speech communication courses on both the high school and college level, as well as having worked in radio news and education television production. Students in the class will reap the benefits of this experience.

For more information contact the Graduate and Continuing Education Office at Salisbury State College at 543-6170.

Applications

Applications for Resident Assistant positions for the 1985-86 academic year will be available beginning November 5. Students may pick up an application from their Area Director or at the Housing Office, room 130 Holloway Hall.

The position requires strong communication skills, leadership ability and a commitment to help others. Applicants must have a minimum grade point average of 2.0 and be able to attend two one-day training programs to be held February 16 and March 2, 1985. The Resident Assistant position pays approximately $1,900 per year.

The deadline for submitting applications to the Housing Office is Tuesday, November 20.

All Education majors planning to student teach in the Spring 1985 semester need to complete an application form. If you are not in a Methods class to receive an application, please stop by the Education Department office in Caruthers Hall, B-152, and pick up an application form. Deadline to return the completed application to the Education Department is November 20, 1984.

Clinic

The American Cancer Society, the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Salisbury State College announce a "Stop-Smoking" clinic scheduled for November 5, 6, 7, 8, and 12 from 7-9 p.m. in the Chesapeake Room located on the campus in the College Center.

The five session program includes speakers, films, distribution of literature and helpful hints on how to stop smoking.

The Clinic's facilitators will be Mrs. Mary Krum and Mr. Dennis Noonan. Guest speakers will be Dr. Bob McBrein, Director of Counseling Services at Salisbury State College and Dr. Bernard Dormer, a Salisbury oral surgeon.

The sessions are free but registration is required and can be accomplished by calling the American Cancer Society at 749-1624.

Work Experience Notes

The Work Experience Program will no longer be taking applications from students for on-campus employment for Fall, 1984; however, applications will still be available for those students wishing to register with the Program for off-campus employment opportunities.

Over the summer months the Work Experience Program (WE) acquired a computerized system wherein we now have the ability to place students based on their skills, time available and preference for on or off-campus employment. It is, therefore, imperative that any student already registered with the WE Program for Fall, 1984 come to the office and update their application (to include on campus or local address, schedule of availability based on class schedule, phone number, change in full-time or part-time status, etc.). This is of utmost importance in order for the student to remain on our computer file. Deadline for any changes on student applications is Nov. 7, 1984 - after that time, any application not complete or updated will be pulled from our active file. The student will not be considered for employment either on or off-campus.

If you are interested in employment for the Winterbreak session and currently have an application on file with the WE Program for the Fall, it is your responsibility to come in and inform us of your interest. We will then make the proper notation on the computer to indicate your desire to work either on or off-campus during the Winterbreak period. Deadline for notification of the WE Program for interest in Winterbreak employment: December 3, 1984.

For those students thinking ahead towards the Spring 1985 semester, application update forms will be available in the Work Experience Office beginning December 3, 1984. For those students who already have an application on file, this form will only serve to change information already placed on the computer (address, phone, schedule for the Spring semester, etc.). Again, it is the responsibility of the student to come in and change information on their application in order to be considered for Spring employment. For those students interested in entering the WE Program in the Spring, application forms will also be available as of December 3rd.

Faculty, administrators and staff members should note that the WE Office now has computer capability and can locate a student to assist them with babysitting, yardwork, typing, painting, housework, moving etc. By telephoning our office, we will take down information on your specific needs and desired times for this assistance, run a computerized listing of those students with specific skills requested and contact the students appraising them of your employment opportunity. We can also screen applicants or have them contact you directly.

Finally, the Work Experience Program has a new Coordinator, Mrs. Vicki Kozlowski. Stop in to see her for information on the Work Experience Program if you are not already registered.

Meetings

SSC Cycling Club Forming. There will be an informational meeting to discuss ideas for forming a cycling club on Wednesday, November 7, at 3:30 p.m. in Maggs Physical Activity Center, Room 203. The club will be coed and all members of the SSC community are invited to attend. Faculty, Administration, Staff, Men and Women students, we need your ideas!!

SSC Administration Looking At Alternatives For Housing Problem

BY TED PALIK

There are a number of options the administration of SSC is looking at to relieve the housing problem here, Director of Residence Life Barry King said.

King said that the administration projects about 260-270 current students will lose their housing in the Fall 1985. "The new residence hall (Chesapeake B) is at least three years away and in that time we want to try to deal with the housing problem in certain areas," he said.

He listed four major options the administration is examining: (1) create new beds on campus through temporary Nanticoke homes or tripling, (2) create beds off campus, (3) develop a grade point system related to housing, and (4) make seniors ineligible for campus housing.

If they are built, King said that the Nanticoke homes would fulfill a fast-growing market for single rooms, especially among seniors. The Nanticoke would have separate rooms in each house with one person to a room. "This aspect makes the Nanticoke more feasible," he said. But King said the houses cost $50,000 each and money is an issue right now. "If you build twenty of those, that's a lot of money," he said.

King also said that Chester and Choptank dorms could be tripled. A loft could be built for the third person. He said the dorms are supposed to get new furniture sometime in early 1985 and a surplus of furniture in the high rise would make tripling more feasible.

Director of Housing, Robert Lovely said it might be interesting to see how many students would volunteer for tripling in the two high rises. "But that would just partially relieve a minor part of the housing problem," he said.

Barry King, director of resident life, said that the administration could also look to create more beds off-campus by making the surrounding community more aware that there is a need for housing. But the community at large seems to be more wary of students living off-campus.

The grade point system tied into housing would be developed so it would relate to the number of semesters and credit hours attempted, said King. He said that the specific proposal involved minimum grade point averages after a certain number of semesters at the college.

These would be a 1.8 GPA after one semester, a 2.0 GPA after three semesters and a 2.5 GPA after junior status has been achieved. King said the system is designed to give students incentive for their later college careers.

King said another alternative for SSC would be to make seniors ineligible for on campus housing. He said this proposal was not very feasible because the lottery system already causes many seniors to lose their housing. "In theory, it takes the guesswork out of when a senior will have to move off campus," he said, "because the chance is high that she or he will lose it anyway." The lottery system heightens the chance that a senior will be put out into the "real world" just at the time he or she should be thinking about it and preparing for it, he said.

King stressed that all these ideas are under discussion and that he was interested in getting views from the student body.

At the moment, King is part of a committee discussing the housing problem when the lottery is reinstated in Fall 1985.

"We're trying to figure out how to allocate a scarce resource among the people who want it and we want to know what the students think is the best road to take," he said.

The committee includes King, Vice President of Administration Joseph Gilbert, Director of Housing Robert Lovely, Administrative Services Director Richard Yobst, Dean of Students Carol Williamson and Student Senate President Craig Fringer.

King said that the Nanticoke homes are a short range option for relieving the housing symptoms so SSC will not suffer from a lack of enrollment down the road. Housing now could be used as a "carrot on a stick" to lead to better housing in the future. That way, SSC could retain its current high enrollment and make the school attractive for future students.

Fringer said that Resident Assistants and their roommates as well as honor students are currently exempt from the lottery. He said he wanted to hear student input about those points and the other alternatives the committee was discussing.

He stressed that not one of the options is final. "Nothing is set in stone," he said.

Response To A Letter

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to a letter written by an employee of the Book Rack concerning my article on the competition between the Book Rack and Campus Books Inc.

First of all, Campus Books Inc. does not try to pass off old editions to SSC students, except as reference texts, if they attempted to do otherwise they wouldn't remain in business very long.

Secondly, the writer mentioned the example of Hole's Anatomy and Physiology text as being priced higher at Campus Books Inc. than it was at the Book Rack. O.K., but why didn't you add that there is a Finite Math book that is priced higher at the Book Rack than it is at Campus Books Inc.? That is only one example (of a little competition).

Also, Campus Books Inc. came to Salisbury with the express intention of serving both SSC and # University Status For SSC ?

BY TED PALIK

The enrollment of SSC is at a good level now to keep that personal touch intact and the administration wants to broaden its existing graduate schools of learning to strengthen its claim to university status, Vice President of Academic Affairs Joel Rodney said.

He stressed that the administration does not want to continue to up the enrollment but to keep it at a good level and to strengthen the commitment to masters degree programs. The current graduate schools of learning include professional, liberal arts and health degrees while the six subjects that offer masters degrees are History, Psychology, English, Education, Business and Nursing.

Rodney said that the college probably will wind up with degree programs that draw on the existing masters degrees programs. He cited as examples a new area under the Masters in Business Administration which would offer a health administration program or under the Education Masters which would offer social work.

The underlying theme of the expansion of the existing masters degree programs would be that students could take graduate courses while still at an undergraduate level. That way they could get a head start on their graduate studies and not have to stay so long at college, Rodney said.

Rodney added that SSC has no plans to become a Ph.D. granting institution. "SSC's function is that of a comprehensive university rather than one that stresses research," he said. "We are here to teach. We have no desire to imitate MIT. We have a multi-purpose in serving lots of constituencies."

Rodney said the one thing holding back SSC from university status is the Maryland state requirement of a minimum of 5,000 enrollees. He said the SSC administration is trying to say that size should not be a factor in achieving university status.

"We're not going to go out and get a bunch of people just to achieve university status," he said. "We want to get good people and we want to tell the state of Maryland that quality is more important

Pedestrians Taking Chances

The State Highway Administration recently contacted the Salisbury State College Department of Public Safety to report that many individuals have been observed crossing Route 13 in front of the College and have not been using the crosswalk. The crosswalk and "Walk, Don't Walk" lights have been installed for pedestrians' safety. The crosswalk is to be used at all times.

Pedestrians have certain responsibilities when crossing roadways. You have more protections under the law when using a marked crosswalk. You lose many of your legal protections when you cross a road other than at a marked intersection. If a pedestrian crosses a roadway at any point other than in a marked crosswalk, the pedestrian shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle approaching on the roadway.

The crosswalk and "Walk, Don't Walk" lights on Route 13 and Bateman Street have been installed for your use and safety. Please, for your own protection, use that location when crossing Route 13. In the past week, there have been several purses and wallets stolen from campus offices and residence hall rooms. In every instance the purse or wallet was in plain view and was taken from an unlocked, unoccupied room.

In order to help put a stop to the thefts, the following precautions should be taken:

1. Lock the door to your room when you leave.
2. Secure your purse or wallet in a safe place, i.e. locked desk drawer or file cabinet, etc.
3. Do not leave purses in plain view.
4. Report all suspicious persons to the Public Safety Department immediately, phone 543-6222.

Ex-student Charged

A former Salisbury State College student now living in Rockville has been charged with arson in connection with a May 1983 fire at Holloway Hall on the SSC campus. Deputy State Fire Marshal David Herring said Cynthia A. Engle, 23, is accused of setting a fire which damaged several chairs in the Holloway auditorium. Arrested over the weekend of October 13-14, she was returned to Salisbury and held at the Wicomico County Detention Center until $10,000 bond was posted Monday, according to a jail spokesman.

Herring said he filed warrants for Engle's arrest this past May but she was not located until recently. He said she was a student at the college when the May 12, 1983 fire occurred.

NEWS

Wor Wic Tech. They were well aware that there was no way they could make enough of a profit from dealing with just one school to justify their operation in this area. Speaking as a former student of Wor Wic Tech, I can only imagine that most of the students there, including ones that I know, are pleased with the new book store. Prior to this semester students there had little choice but to buy all their books new. Now they have a fair chance at purchasing used texts for less.

Having heard, from numerous sources, that the Book Rack had only recently offered SSC a complete 50% buy back policy, I assumed that it was true. This was an error on my part. Since no one else at the Flyer was aware of the Book Rack's policies, this misinformation did slip through. I apologize. However, I still do not consider any of the information printed to be "libel", and I regret that the Book Rack took the story so personally. I have come to understand that school sponsored bookstores across the nation have little control over the wholesale prices, a fact that has prompted increasing numbers of them to be turned over to lease to companies, that because they are out to make a profit, can be more flexible with students, in terms of year around buying practices, etc.

When this article was being written, I ran across a number of points I felt that the student body at SSC had a right to know. For instance, and speaking of biases, there was a very strong one against Campus Books Inc. in terms of their reputation, and rumors of litigation, or possible litigation by SSC against them. Although no one seemed to be able to tell me where these stories had originated from, I wanted to know if they were true, and, if not, why did so many people believe them?

The constitution of the Flyer News magazine states that we are responsible "to the student body" of SSC and no other group of people. Since most of the students I spoke to didn't even know of the alternative bookstore, or the problems they had encountered, I reported on that and brought it to their attention.

Student Senate Accessibility

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter in response to the Letter to the Editor that appeared in your last issue. I am referring to the letter dealing with the Student Advocates Program sponsored by the Student Senate. I felt that this letter symbolized a key problem of the Student Senate. The problem I am referring to is that of accessibility to the Students. I want to make it clear that the Senate is willing to speak to any Student who feels that we have not done what they expect of us. The case outlined was very helpful as it made me aware that the situation existed. I had not heard about Mr. Gilman's concern until I opened the paper. I am simply asking that the Students give us a chance to clear up the problem before making it seem that we are not willing to work with them.

We here in the Senate Office are committed to helping the Students, from getting their opinions heard to helping them get involved. We were elected to fulfill that purpose, but we can only do these things when a Student comes to us. Basically what I am asking is that before Student puts the Flyer's name on a letter to the editor put the Senate's name on a letter to me. The Senate Office is located in Room 110 of Tawes Hall. The number is 543-6183. I can be reached personally at 543-6510.

We want to help and promote the Student's point of view, please give us the opportunity.

Craig Fringer
Senate President

Competition Applauded

Dear Editor:

My compliments go out to Campus Books Inc. for having the guts to establish a store in Salisbury. Competition is a major part of our economic system and colleges are not exempt from this element. Salisbury State College is expanding rapidly. Our college now has five academic schools and will soon be a university. The college should be able to handle justified competition of any form.

Thank goodness there is now a book store that will give you a 50% buy back policy. I have never, in four years of college, received any where close to 50% buy back for my books.

Also, I have a hard time believing that every student at SSC is satisfied with The Book Rack and the services they offer. My feeling is that students like to have the freedom to choose and not be limited in their choices.

In the beginning of this semester I visited Campus Books and found the books somewhat cheaper than at The Book Rack. Don't get me wrong, I am not trying to dismantle The Book Rack, but what is so wrong with free enterprise? All I have to say is, go for it Campus Books. I just hope SSC, my prospective alma mater, will be mature enough to handle this competition.

Critique Cinematique "Razor's Edge"

BY JOE TALBOTT

The "Razors Edge," starring Bill Murray, is a film well worth seeing. The exquisite cinematography and Byrum-Murray adaptation of the Maugham novel create a drama, which when combined with Murray's acting, appropriately balances on a "Razors Edge."

Throughout the film, the Murray character, "Larry," searches for his niche in life. Admittedly, this is not the most original plot, but in context of the movie it works well. Travelling through the U.S., England, France, and India during the years of The Great Depression, Larry meets people who profoundly affect his quest.

Bill Murray, like Jimmy Stewart and more recently, Clint Eastwood, has basically one character who he uses in various situations for different ends. "The Razors Edge" is no exception. This is the Murray of "Meatballs" and "Stripes," but there is also something more. Larry tends to have difficulty passing up potential one-liners like most Murray characters. In this film, however, he grows. The tragedies of death, failure and depression wear hard on Larry, and Murray does an outstanding job adapting to these effects.

Three Enjoyable Works

BY MARY ELLEN LARSON

It's too bad cameras weren't allowed in the Holloway Hall Theatre to capture the visually interesting "Three Original Works," plays written by SSC faculty and performed by SSC students Oct. 19, 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28.

A southern honky tonk, complete with rustic bar and jukebox, was the setting for the first play performed, "Captain Miracle Comes to the Rainbow Room." Dr. Kenneth Wilkerson wrote this comical story of diverse and colorful characters who try to transform their true identities and then, finally reveal themselves.

The characters, in general, were thoughtfully portrayed. Perhaps the most believable, however, were Paul Lewis as Kingfisher, an idiosyncratic street bum, and Captain Miracle, played by Christopher Harris. Unfortunately, what seemed to be an insightful and biting satire by Wilkerson was often difficult to interpret due to hastily spoken and unclear dialogue.

The second play, "Tales of the Chesapeake," was written by Dr. Andrew Hepburn. The play was based on Hepburn's summer collection of anecdotes told by local watermen and island dwellers.

"Chesapeake Nightmare," also written by Hepburn, is a statement on how the bay has been abused and the price we pay for that abuse. This political statement was conveyed quite effectively by dreamlike (or nightmarelike) characters in grotesque masks and costumes. Hepburn directed the "Three Original Works."

Homecoming 1984 : Masquerade

BY CATHY LYNCH

The Parkside Marching band performed the "Lullaby of Broadway."

Salisbury State's annual Homecoming was held last week from Tuesday, October 23 to Sunday, October 28. The theme was "Masquerade" and the mood was set by decorating the dining hall with banners, ribbons, balloons and masks.

During the week the students were encouraged to get into the spirit of Homecoming by dressing up. Tuesday was the day when everyone was supposed to support their club or organization by wearing T-shirts and pins that would distinguish them. Wednesday was T-shirt day, that is, everyone was asked to wear their SSC or Ocean City T-shirt. Thursday students were encouraged to wear hats and sunglasses.

The real weekend festivities were started off on Friday when everyone wore their maroon and gold. Friday night there was a bonfire/pep rally put on by the SSC cheerleaders. This annual tradition was a huge success, as usual. Also, there was the traditional Friday night dance in the Gull's Nest with live entertainment provided by B-Bent Sound. The theme was "Halloween".

Saturday marked the first annual SSC Carnival, which took the place of the parade usually held on the Saturday of Homecoming. Many campus clubs set up booths of games and foods which were enjoyed by students, alumni, guests, faculty and Salisbury residents.

Another new event this year was the first annual Camden Avenue "Magic Mile" race sponsored by the Salisbury State College Alumni Association. T-shirts, prize money and other awards were given out to the winners. SSC alumni winners were Leslie Wright with a time of 4:34 and Laurie Cathcart with 6:28.

On Saturday morning the Dance Company presented its German Dance outside of Holloway Hall, and in the afternoon the SSC Seagulls played the Guilford Quakers, who, unfortunately, won 38-21. At halftime, the Homecoming Queen, Stacy Burke, and the Homecoming Court Shelley Bates, (1st runner up), Leigh Ann Wheeler, Dana Bernstein and Anne Devlin were introduced.

The final event of the day was the Homecoming Dance held in Maggs gym. The dance, which was well-attended by students and alumni alike, lasted from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The music was supplied by the band "Double Trouble".

All in all, the Homecoming was a great success.

At half time the pom-pom squad performed to "Let's Hear It for the Boy" in front of an eagerly waiting crowd.

The theme of homecoming for 1984 was "Masquerade."

One of the activities for Saturday included a group of aerobicizers in Red Square.

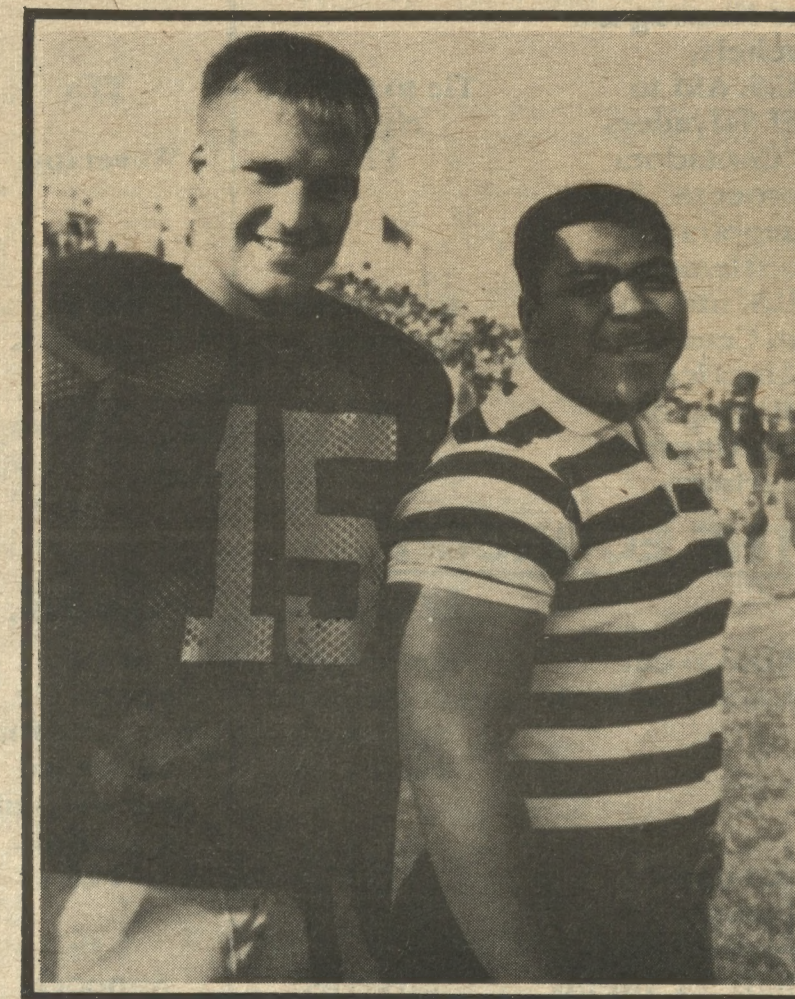

BY MARY LEONARDI

Stacy Burke, the 1984 Homecoming queen, was congratulated by the Mr. and Mrs. Black Student Union of 1984.

"Where's my quarter?".....The Gull's lost homecoming with a depressing score of 38-21, losing to Guilford.

Tim Peterson and Bill Rowlett surely aren't camera shy.

Success of Roommate Manuals Studied

BY TERRI TRESP

Campus life is a vital element in the college experience, and roommate relationships often determine whether that experience is enjoyable or miserable. Recognizing the fact that many roommate problems stem from lack of communication, the SSC residence life staff developed a roommate manual designed to facilitate early communication between roommates.

Students were introduced to these workbooks this fall at dorm check-in. A group of students and administrators began developing the manual last spring. They targeted six areas where roommate discussion commonly arises: sleep habits, study habits, guest in the room, sharing space, sharing possessions and security. The manual presents the college's official stand on the issue and items roommates should consider when discussing the issues and agreeing on common ground.

Barry King, residence life director, said the workbook provides a framework for roommate negotiations within the bounds of college policy. Last year, the administration attempted to set stricter policies on regulating the number and sex of overnight guests and the length and time of stay for overnight or daytime visitors.

The college saw this as a way to keep students from infringing on the rights and privacy of other students. But the proposals met with such vehement opposition that the manual was developed an alternative.

Students had the option of using the manuals or not, but King said the general response has been good. Students were asked to review the book on their own, work through the issues together then meet with their resident assistants. Of the seven dorms on campus and the two motels housing students, 95 percent of the roommates held conferences.

King said the residence life staff expected the manuals to be used by more freshmen and first time roommates, but said more roommates in the co-ed dorms chose to use the book than in the traditional dorms. Only 57 percent of the roommates in Manokin and 42 percent in Nanticoke reported using the manual compared to 60 percent in Chester and 73 percent in Choptank. Only about 11 percent of the males in Pocomoke and 20 percent in Wicomico used the manuals.

Though actual space was provided in the books to write down ideas and agreements on issues, students weren't obligated to put ideas in writing. Manuals were considered in use if students showed interest in using the guidelines as a basis for problem solving. Agreements reached are not binding but are used as tools by RAs for mediating problems.

Cathy Streiner, 2nd floor RA in Choptank, said she thought the process benefitted students and RAs, giving them a chance to get to know each other.

"The manuals helped freshmen people who haven't roomed together before a lot. Even people who didn't want to use the books were pretty willing to at least do what I asked them to do in terms of looking the book over," she said.

Streiner added that conferences were also useful in terms of getting ideas about possible tension areas between roommates by watching them interact with each other.

Chris Barkell, a sophomore living in Chester, said he and his roommate talked over the items in the book, but didn't fill anything out.

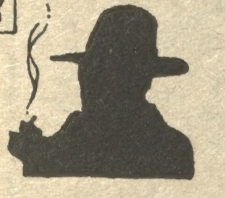

"I can see where it might be helpful to roommates who didn't know each other, but it didn't really help us because we've known each other for over a semester," he said.

The manual's success will be evaluated by an eight person committee chosen from the residence life staff. Areas to be examined will be resident training in mediation skills; implementation of the workbook in regard to how it was presented to students; the process of conferences; the workbook itself to determine whether the portion for student written responses could be eliminated; and the use of the workbook as a tool to resolve conflicts.

A follow up survey will also be distributed later this semester to student who did and did not use the manual to determine if there is a difference in the quality of the roommates' relationships. Dr. George Whitehead of SSC's psychology department will assist in these student evaluations.

Sorority Celebrates Founding

BY KAREN HERPEL

The Beta Mu Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority is celebrating its National Founder's Day during the first week of November. The first chapter was founded on November 4, 1899 at the Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, Michigan. Alpha Sigma Tau currently has 39 chapters all over the United States. Every year around November 4, each chapter gives a formal banquet or some other suitable function to celebrate National Founders Day. The Beta Mu chapter of Salisbury State College will hold its fall banquet on Saturday, November 3 in the Denang room at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center.

The Beta Mu Chapter was founded on November 18, 1978 at Salisbury State College. Although Beta Mu is small for its six years of charter, its accomplishments have been generous. The chapter has currently expanded its membership with a very successful fall Rush. They have 20 new pledges and would like to congratulate each one of them. The chapter functions on a community as well as campus level. A few of the accomplishments over the past six years include helping its adopted family grow with time and love and working at the civic center for fund raisers. Beta Mu is still a growing chapter and has many more years ahead to add to its accomplishments.

Playoff Hopes Diminish as Gulls Fall to Guilford

Hopes of the football teams second straight NCAA playoff berth were all but eliminated as the Gulls fell to the Guilford Quakers in front of a homecoming crowd of 3,567, by a score of 38-21.

Last week, Salisbury had a much easier time of it as they blew away Kean College, of New Jersey, 49-3 at Sea Gull Stadium. School records fell as the Gulls had first, second and even third string players seeing action. Quarterback Robb Disbennett put the Gulls on top first with a 56 yard touchdown run, the longest touchdown run from scrimmage this year for Salisbury. Disbennett threw four touchdown passes, three to half-back John Harris, both setting school records. Joe Allen, who had four catches in the game, broke the single-season record for receptions with 40.

On defense, nose guard David MacRae had six unassisted tackles; line backer David Spradlin had five tackles and an interception; and defensive tackle Norm Bage had three tackles and two sacks.

The following Monday after the Kean game, the Quarterback Luncheon, held at the Sheraton, named Noel Resas (offense), Mike Mammano (defense) and Jon Antonio (special teams) as the players of the week.

Emotions ran high before the Salisbury-Guilford game on both sides as the two teams desperately needed a win to make the playoffs. Guilford, a division I NAIA school, was also looking for revenge for the homecoming loss to Salisbury last year, by a score of 10-7. Sea Gull Head Coach Mike McGlinchey called the game a "must" win for his team if they were to make the playoffs.

Going into the game, Salisbury was ranked fifth nationally and first in the South region of NCAA Division III. Under NCAA rules, the top two ranked teams in each of the four regions make the playoffs. The Gulls will undoubtedly fall below the top two spots in the South after the pounding from Guilford.

For Salisbury to make the playoffs, they must win at Widener, the only game remaining in the regular season, and hope other teams in the South ranked ahead of the Gulls lose.

Guilford scored first in the game when halfback Terry Jones ran the ball in from three yards out to put the Quakers up early, 7-0. Salisbury evened it up early in the second period on a flea-flicker with Harris scoring on a 59 yard pass from split end Joe Allen. On the Gulls next possession, Salisbury got the ball on their own 49 yard line. With the strength of the ground game Salisbury moved the ball 50 yards before full-back Dwayne Humenik pushed it in from the one to put the Gulls on top 14-7, a lead they held at the half.

The Quakers, with a 6-1 record and ranked 10th in the nation, pulled all the pieces together in the second half as they rolled off 24 straight points. The Quaker attack was ignited by defensive back Tim Everhart who intercepted two passes. The first interception set up a 34 yard field-goal to cut Salisbury's lead to 14-10. Less than a minute later, Everhart intercepted another pass and ran it back 37 yards for a touchdown to give Guilford a 17-14 lead. From that point they never looked back. The Quakers blew the game open with two touchdowns in the second quarter, to give Guilford a 31-14 lead with less than six minutes left in the game.

However, Salisbury did not give up. With the passing of Disbennett, they drove the ball 80 yards for a touchdown. This drive was capped with a four yard Humenik run to make the score 31-21. But an onside kick failed to work for Salisbury and Guilford got the ball back on its own 45. Six plays later, Guilford scored to make final score 38-21.

While Salisbury seemed limited to tricks and gimmicks, Guilford dominated the line, both on offense and defense, to make the Gulls almost totally ineffective against the bigger Quaker players.

The football team has an open Saturday this week and wrap up their season at Widener, November 11.

Salisbury's Dwayne Humenik (No. 45) tackles defensive back Tim Everhart of Guilford after he intercepted a Robb Disbennett pass in the third quarter. It was the first of two key interceptions by Everhart.

Strong Competition Strengthens Field Hockey

BY KEITH RHINE

In the early part of the season, Coach Karen Weaver commented that the rough competition her Gulls would face in the upcoming months would be an advantage for them. Two months later she stands by that statement. As the Gulls near playoff time, Weaver feels strongly that the Gulls will be ready for the playoffs because for the stiff competition they faced all year.

The Gulls traveled up to the state of New York for a two game road swing, during October 20-21. Playing two of the toughest Division III schools in New York, Ithaca and Courtland State, the Gulls came back to SSC with a split. Playing Ithaca on that Saturday, the Gulls beat Ithaca 1-0 behind the scoring of Denise Berto. Coach Weaver pointed out that the Gulls played excellent defense against Ithaca. That next day SSC lost to Courtland State 1-0. Courtland State moved up to the number one ranking in Division III after that game. Most recently, SSC participated in the Maryland State Tournament at Mt. Saint Mary's. SSC defeated Western Maryland 2-0, to advance to the championship round against Frostburg St. Even though SSC out-shot Frostburg St. 23-13, the Gulls came up on the losing side. Frostburg beat SSC 2-1 to take the Tourney's championship.

Soccer Team Rolls On

BY OWEN J. FITZGERALD

As the 1984 season nears completion, the Salisbury State soccer team find themselves with a record of 8-5-1 and a ranking of six in their region.

The Seagulls kicked off the second half of the season with a 3-1 win over Mount Saint Mary's. Scoring by Sean Hull, Tony D'Antonio, and Henry Farrell, with an assist by Eric Tewey provided the Gulls with the victory. The Gulls then faced Roanoke, losing 2-1. Tony D'Antonio was the lone scorer for Salisbury.

Randolph-Macon hosted Salisbury the next week, beating the Gulls 3-1 in overtime. Jamie O'Connor was responsible for SSC's only goal. The gulls bounced back with a 1-0 victory over UMBC, only to suffer another setback against Glassboro the following week 3-1. Jim Cocchiaro was the scorer for SSC in both events.

Coach Gerry DiBartolo worked hard with his players in preparation for the upcoming game against Washington College. DiBartolo knew he had a very talented squad, and a little self-confidence was all they needed. DiBartolo traveled to Washington College with a highly motivated and confident Salisbury squad. The Seagulls dominated Washington College throughout the game and came out on top 2-0. Henry Farrell and Scott Wolfe provided the scoring, with an assist by Eric Tewey. The Gulls enjoyed another victory in their next match up, beating Rutgers 2-0, after battling it out in double overtime. Scoring by Henry Farrell and Tony D'Antonio with an assist by Sean Hull led SSC to their eighth victory of the season.

The Gulls have been playing very well as of late and are still in consideration for the National, State, and Conference tournaments. The loss of top notch goaltender Dan Coleman could play a vital role in SSC's performance, with three of their toughest games still ahead. However, freshman goaltender Chris Esposito has done a fine job thus far, and has the confidence to keep doing so in the future.

The Gulls were handed one of their toughest schedules in years and have accepted the challenge in style. The future looks bright for the Gulls thanks to a substantial number of talented freshmen.

The Gulls soccer team needs a lot of support at home. The next chance to show your support is this Wednesday, October 31 when the Gulls take on Virginia Wesleyan at 2 p.m. The Gulls will then travel to Catholic University before returning home against the University of Maryland for their final game November 7.

Magic Mile

Les Wright, with a time of 4 minutes, 34 seconds, was the winner of the Camden Avenue Magic Mile, held here Saturday.

14-year-old Stacey Murdock, a student at Wicomico Senior High School, was the fastest female just ahead of Melanie Burroughs and Sara Fineran finishing second and third respectively.

Wright, an SSC graduate also won the men's alumni title. Lauri Cathcart won the women's alumni title.

Intramural Notebook

Intramural sports are in full swing this week with playoffs beginning in both co-ed indoor soccer and flag football, plus co-ed bowling racquetball, and fencing adding to the line-up.

After two weeks of rigorous splashing and figuring out how to sit on an inner-tube, DOLE'S POLO PATROL came out on top to defeat RALPH LAUREN 15-13 for the Inner-tube Water Polo Championship, October 24. The SURFRATS defeated NAA 5-3 for third place, before losing to RALPH LAUREN 7-2 in the loser's bracket final.

Suzanne Hamel of RALPH LAUREN led all point scorers with 18, while teammate Muriel Dittrich added twelve. For the team champions, DOLE'S POLO PATROL, Mark Ager led all goal scorers with 11, with teammate Lisa Montigny scoring 14 points. DOLE PATROLLERS Susan David and Maya Yohd added 12 and 10 points respectively.

It's playoff time in co-ed indoor soccer, with the WOODY'S out on top with an undefeated 11-0 slate. Fighting for second is TEAM 10 (8-3), Keiht's CAMPUS CRUSADERS, and LASERS (8-3). Sneaking up in the fifth spot is LES CHATS (7-4), who won their last five games.

TEAM 2 is not far behind with a 7-4 record. Other teams hoping for a lucky break in the playoffs include FEVER, APPROACHING STORM, SPASMATICS, CRUISERS, and CRETIN'S UNITED.

Scott Beeler of TEAM 10 still has a commanding lead for the scoring title with 16 goals. Following suit includes Ron Haddaway, (APPROACHING STORM), 13 goals, Robb Lippy (WOODY'S), 12 goals, Drew Phillips (TEAM 2) with eleven, and Bob Noppenberger (LASERS) scoring ten. Vicki Rudacille (WOODY'S) leads the women scoring with six points.

The SURFRATS who were led by Lorrie Skaggs' eight points, and Mary Kay McNulty's six were probably the most spirited team in the league, boasting their own cheering section which starred Pat Cahill and Mike Provenzano.

The RACQUETBALL CLUB has scheduled court time for club members only on Wednesday evenings from 8-10 p.m., and Sunday nights from 4-8 p.m. Membership dues are one dollar. For information contact Denise Berto, or Tom Sticher, advisor at 543-6349.

The SSC Rugby team lost a close game to a highly touted Baltimore RFC 9-0, October 20. Playing at the site of the Eastern Regional Rugby Championships, the SSC Rugger dominated possession of the ball throughout most of the game, but were unable to score.

On October 13, SSC travelled to Washington D.C., to play Georgetown RFC. The Gull Rugger took a 6-3 half-time lead, before exploding in the second half with a 24-3 whitewashing.

Bob Ott, and Matt Mittrione scored eight points each, while Bart Talbert, and Darien Ripple rounded out the rest of the SSC scoring. SSC won the "B" game 42-0 behind the scoring of Ott, and Doug Nashold.

SSC will host Cumberland RFC, Saturday, Nov. 3, for their last home game this fall season.

Field Hockey

The Gulls record stands at 13-5-1 and are ranked fifth in the nation in Division III. Although the Gulls do have five losses on their record, they are still ranked high because of the stiff competition they have faced all year.

Weaver comments, players such as Stacy Steim, Judy Scofield, Courtney Vaughn, Theresa Johnson, and Diana Suetman have shown good, hard, and aggressive play all season. She also points out Mary Holmead has been steady all season in goal.

Since being assured of a regional playoff berth, the Gulls are now hoping that they will receive some home field advantage. If the Gulls do get home field advantage, Coach Weaver would like to see a lot of support from the students.

A Message From The Student Senate

The Situation

THE STUDENT SENATE HAS BEEN VERY INVOLVED IN THE DISCUSSION INVOLVING THE HOUSING SITUATION AND WAYS TO ALLEVIATE THE CRISIS. ALSO THE LOTTERY HAS BEEN DISCUSSED. THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION OUTLINES FOR YOU WHAT HAS BEEN DISCUSSED AND WHERE THE COLLEGE STANDS.

The Committee

THE COLLEGE HAS SET UP A COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS CONCERNING THE HOUSING SITUATION. THE MEMBERS OF THIS COMMITTEE ARE MR. JOSEPH GILBERT, V.P. FOR ADMINISTRATION; DR. CAROL WILLIAMSON, DEAN OF STUDENTS; MR. RICHARD YOBST, DIRECTOR OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES; MR. ROBERT LOVELY, DIRECTOR OF HOUSING; MR. BARRY KING, DIRECTOR OF RESIDENCE LIFE; MR. M.P. MINTON, DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS; BRUCE LAIRE, RESIDENT ASSISTANT; AND CRAIG FRINGER, SENATE PRESIDENT. THIS COMMITTEE HAS MET SEVERAL TIMES AND MEMBERS HAVE MET WITH OTHER GROUPS TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

The Lease - Buy Back

THIS IS A FUNDING PROCEDURE WHICH WAS USED BY TOWSON STATE UNIVERSITY TO FUND CONSTRUCTION OF TOWSON TOWERS (DORMITORIES) AND A PARKING GARAGE. THEN THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND SUSPENDED THIS PROCEDURE SO THAT IT COULD BE DISCUSSED AT GREATER LENGTH AND ALSO THAT A SET OF PROCEDURES BE DEVISED TO CARRY OUT THIS FUNDING PROCESS. THE STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS HAS PLACED THESE PROCEDURES ON THERE AGENDA SEVERAL TIMES AND HAVE NOT YET APPROVED. THEY MEET TODAY AND WILL DISCUSS THIS PLAN ONCE AGAIN. THIS FUNDING PROCEDURE IS THE KEY HOLD-UP IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW DORM AND A NEW COLLEGE CENTER.

The Lottery

THE LOTTERY WAS FIRST USED LAST YEAR WITH ANY EFFECT ON STUDENTS. THIS YEAR THERE WILL MORE THAN LIKELY BE ANOTHER LOTTERY. IT IS NOT YET DEFINITE HOW THIS LOTTERY WILL BE SET UP. IT WILL EITHER BE SET UP AS IT WAS LAST YEAR OR THERE WILL BE A SLIDING GRADE POINT AVERAGE SCALE TO DETERMINE EXEMPTION. IF THE TEMPORARY MODULAR HOMES ARE APPROVED, THE NUMBER OF STUDENTS AFFECTED BY THE LOTTERY WILL DECREASE.

Temporary Housing

THE COLLEGE HAS NOW DETERMINED THAT THERE WILL BE A NEED FOR TEMPORARY MEANS OF HOUSING STUDENTS UNTIL THE NEW DORM CAN BE COMPLETED. AT BEST TWO AND ONE HALF YEARS. THE BEST PLAN OF ACTION TO DATE WOULD BE THE CONSTRUCTION OF TEMPORARY MODULAR HOMES ON-CAMPUS TO BE USED AS DORMITORIES. THESE HOMES WOULD BE PATTERNED AFTER THE COMPUTER SCIENCE BUILDING LOCATED BEHIND MAGGS GYM. THERE WOULD BE TEN STUDENTS PER HOME MOST LIKELY WITH SINGLE ROOMS. THE COLLEGE HOPES TO BE ABLE TO HOUSE UP TO 140 STUDENTS THIS WAY. THE COLLEGE NEEDS THE APPROVAL OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STATE UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES TO CARRY OUT THIS PLAN OF ACTION. THE CONSTRUCTION OF THESE HOMES COULD BE COMPLETED BY THE FALL SEMESTER OF 1985.

AS YOU CAN SEE, THE STUDENT SENATE HAS BEEN DEALING CLOSELY WITH THIS ISSUE. IT IS A COMPLEX ISSUE THAT INVOLVES MANY DEPARTMENTS. MANY IDEAS HAVE BEEN DISCUSSED BUT THERE MAY STILL BE GOOD IDEAS THAT HAVE BEEN UNTOUCHED. IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ON WHAT HAS BEEN PRESENTED HERE OR SUGGESTIONS, PLEASE CONTACT CRAIG FRINGER AT THE SENATE OFFICE, TAWES 110 OR CALL 543-6183.
